

QUIET AT HAZELTON

But General Gobin is Still Uneasy.

THE CALM BEFORE THE STORM

Ominous Silence Reigns Among the Miners—Scenes at the Funeral.

HAZELTON, Pa., September 13.—Trouble has broken out at Cox Bros' colliery at Eckley. The superintendent of the Eckley colliery telegraphed General Gobin for troops, but later in the day the request was withdrawn, the superintendent notifying the general that the striking miners had stopped working. At 4 o'clock this afternoon General Gobin received telegrams that these miners had again assembled and marched on the Eckley mines and forced the miners to quit work. It was stated in this dispatch that the miners had been roughly handled. General Gobin has ordered the city troop of Philadelphia to go to the scene of the disturbance. The start will be made shortly after midnight or else just after daybreak. The troops will ride across the mountains, a distance of eighteen miles, to Eckley. Eckley is a small mining village, and lies in a valley. There are a number of collieries there, and there have been entertainers for the past forty-eight hours that trouble would break out, as the men had been acting very ugly. The situation tonight in the Hazelton district is one of unrest. All the collieries in this district are apprehensive of danger. Requests have been pouring in to General Gobin from the various mines asking that he send troops to the place in order to prevent any possible outbreak. The general states that he will not send troops to any point unless an outbreak does occur. The general declines to give the names of the collieries, as all the men in them are still at work. The operators, however, are apprehensive of a strike and want to be prepared for an emergency in this vicinity have asked General Gobin to place guards around their houses. This will be done. General Gobin will not make public the names of the superintendents who made the request. Two actresses who are playing in a theater here overheard a conversation on the main street of Hazelton today to this effect. They were passing a group of miners and overheard one of them remark: "I've got the material, but I don't know how to mix the d-d stuff. If I did it would blow them tonight." This information was sent to General Gobin, and as he had already heard snuffings from other sources he decided to send guards to the houses of the two mine superintendents. The guards were not placed on duty until after dark. HAZELTON, Pa., September 13.—At this writing troops are marching on the mines of Cox Bros. at Eckley, which nestles in a valley about eighteen miles from Hazelton. Late this evening indicated an alarming condition there. The remoteness of the situation will make difficult the securing of definite news from the scene before morning. Today has been regarded as the turning point of the situation because of the prohibition issued by General Gobin against the proposition of the funeral demonstration. A compromise was effected this morning, however, and the day passed off without disturbance. In the meantime the Cox collieries were being watched with intense anxiety. It was known that the 3000 men employed at No. 7 had made a demand for a 10 per cent increase, which was to be submitted to the operators today, with the alternative of "striking." From 3000 to 5000 men are employed at all the collieries, and it was understood that such a movement would bring them all out. General Gobin said this afternoon: "The rumor that a strike had been declared has been spread by some vicious person. There is no strike. We are here solely to assist the sheriff in maintaining peace and order. Men can come and go as they please so long as they behave themselves. If there is the least intimation of the peace which the civil authorities are unable to handle then we will render assistance." The commander added that neither Sheriff Martin nor any of the deputies would be arrested while the troops were here. "I am under his authority," he said, "and if he is arrested I must take that authority from the deputies." Bands of music, side arms, clicks and sabres were all prohibited. The priests promised that all this should be done, and the commander on the other hand agreed to keep all troops away from the funeral. Somebody stole a march on the general, however, and although the latter revoked the ban on religious music, there were men in the line wearing the uniform of the Italian army and others carrying drawn sabres. Six of the latter stood in front of the church during the funeral service. Learning of this, the commander promptly dispatched a staff officer and a detail of men to the cemetery, but when they reached there the services were over and the mourners had been dismissed. The general said he would demand an explanation from the clergyman. As a matter of fact there was little change in the program arranged by the miners for today's funeral. The cortege was to start at 10 o'clock, and two processions from a northward direction to the cemetery without regard to the other, who united in an extensive cortege. Eight of the bodies lay in the shop of Undertaker Bonin in Hazelton, and when they were viewed by a great crowd for a couple of hours before the procession started. Meantime the other two lines were climbing over the rugged mountain roads, leading from Hazelton. A crowd of fully 5000 jammed the streets in the neighborhood but there was no disorder. The platform originally intended for the street in front of the building had been erected before the night, and the ten coffins were laid, with Father Auste Saum of the Polish priests celebrated high mass. In the meantime a gag of miners in the cemetery were blocking out to make space for a large circuit grave, in which all the bodies were interred. There were

Was This Pigeon a Messenger From the Pole?

LOANSPRING, Ind., September 13.—Excitement prevails in this vicinity over the capture of a carrier pigeon with a message signed "Andrew." The writing is in English, but it is thought that the explorer sent out the message in all languages. The bird was first seen to fly over a small town called Laidville near here, and was next seen when it alighted on Farmer Workman's house in an exhausted condition. Its capture was easy, but in getting the bird down it was injured and died this morning. The bird had a small aluminum band around its leg which was inscribed "No. 21" and the letter "A." Under the left wing was a parchment containing some badly disfigured writing, of which only the following could be read, "August 22, Pole" and the next was erased. Then came the signature "Andrew." The action of the wing had worn the parchment and erased the writing. The whole had been tied on the body of the bird and while not loose, had evidently been in all kinds of weather. At first it was thought that a practical joke had been played, but the exhausted condition of the bird disproves this.

A TEXAS CYCLONE.

WRECK AND RUIN AT PORT ARTHUR.

Six Persons Killed and Many Injured—Hotels and Buildings Blown Down.

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, September 13.—A tornado, terrible in its intensity, struck this city at an early hour last evening. Six people are known to have been killed, while many others were injured. Buildings were blown down and great damage was wrought by the cyclone. Dead: Frank Albrecht, employed by electric light company. George Martin, bricklayer, residence unknown. Fritz Michaels, laborer, residence unknown. Unknown man, aged 35. My Ainsworth, 13-year-old daughter of William Ainsworth. Infant son of W. H. Johnson blown from its mother's arms and drowned. Many buildings were blown down, including the railroad round house where My Ainsworth was killed; the Natatorium, the bank building, Townsite Company's bank, Hotel Lloyd, Strong's grocery, several residences and several others. Of Dr. W. A. Harralough being carried across the street. Many other buildings were completely blown away. From early morning the sky was threatening and a stiff gale blew. No rain fell, but the wind increased in intensity until it reached the velocity of eighty miles an hour. Every building in the town in of frame construction except one brick, the Port Arthur Bank and Company building, the far end and roof of which was blown away. The bodies of the victims have been sent to Beaumont for interment, no cemetery having as yet been laid out here. There were many acts of bravery and the assistance during the severity of the storm was terrible. A. J. Williams, of Wilcox, Tex., says that nearly all the houses there have been blown down and torn away. At Webb all of the barns and one house were demolished and scattered over the country. Nothing can be heard from Sabine Pass, as all telegraphic communication has been interrupted. A relief train left Beaumont tonight for this place and Sabine Pass. It is believed that much destruction was wrought at Sabine Pass with a probability of life. Everything possible is being done to establish communication with that place. The relief train has just returned from the last infraction of the peace which the civil authorities are unable to handle then we will render assistance." The commander added that neither Sheriff Martin nor any of the deputies would be arrested while the troops were here. "I am under his authority," he said, "and if he is arrested I must take that authority from the deputies." Bands of music, side arms, clicks and sabres were all prohibited. The priests promised that all this should be done, and the commander on the other hand agreed to keep all troops away from the funeral. GAMBLING IN WHEAT.

Bulls and Bears Have a Merry Old Time.

CHICAGO, September 13.—The weakness of wheat Saturday was renewed today and for the same reasons. Liverpool markets and hull pools. It opened heavy and without any special activity. The opening trades were at 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 per bushel below the Saturday closing price, December starting at 50 1/2 to 50 3/4, against Saturday's closing price of 50 1/2. The tendency during the first hour was to recover a little of the first losses, but at the end of that time the first thought of the traders came back to them and a still lower price than the lowest point of the opening range was brought around without much business passing. The Liverpool market was from 1d. to 1 1/2d. lower, the receipts were heavy and the quantity on ocean passage was 925,000 bushels larger for the week. An increase to somewhere around 1,000,000 bushels in the visible was looked for, which expectation was subsequently fulfilled. After the receipt of the visible supply figures, which showed 910,000 bushels increase, the market had a very severe weak spell. December recovered to 95 1/2 during the first hour, and then fell to 95 1/4 for some time, and until near the time for the announcement of the visible figures it gave evidence of further weakness. Then, however, the market became very weak and the price dropped down 95 1/4 to 95 1/2, the hammer on a pile driver. Closing cables reported from Paris from 16 to 20 centimes lower. The report of thirty loads being taken for export and claims for 300,000 bushels of wheat for export tended to bring about a rally later in the session, and under covering by early sellers recovered to 94 1/2 to 94 3/4, where it closed. Corn participated to a slight degree in the weakness of wheat. For a time after the opening the market was easy at a small decline. The visible supply increased 2,384,000, and local stocks increased 2,000,000 bushels. Nevertheless this there was good buying, the market being helped perhaps by the hot weather. The decline was finally recovered. Oats were influenced somewhat by covering during the morning. Later in the day good cash inquiry was reported which caused a firmer feeling. Liverpool, September 13.—Closing: Wheat No. 1, northern spring, dull, 33s 3/4; No. 2, red western winter, dull, 33s 3/4. Corn—American, steady, but now quiet, 3s 3/4; old, quiet, 3s 3/4; September, quiet, 3s 3/4; November, quiet, 3s 3/4. The imports of wheat in Liverpool from all Atlantic ports 32,000 bushels; from Pacific ports none; from other ports 8000 quarters. Imports of corn from Atlantic ports 30,700.

RICHTER PULLED A GUN

ATTEMPT TO HOLD UP THE LIQUOR DEALER LAST NIGHT.

He Had $200 in His Pocket—The Would-Be Robbers Fled.

Three footpads made an unsuccessful attempt to hold up Jacob Richter, the wholesale liquor dealer, about 11 o'clock last night on I street just below the Hughes hotel, near the corner of Kern. The would-be robbers were armed with clubs, and as soon as they encountered him to throw up his hands. Richter whipped out a pistol and cried that he would shoot the first man that made a move towards him. The footpads broke and ran, the ex-shooter frightened them. Richter had $200 in his pocket and as soon as the men stopped him he turned upon a desperate resistance. The fellows, however, lacked the nerve to close in on him. The liquor dealer at once came up town and notified the police, and officers Wallace and Scott Smith made a search for the thugs. In Dag's saloon Richter pointed out the three young fellows whom he positively identified as his footpads. The police took them to jail, where they gave the names of Richard Pashley, A. J. Hubert and Harry Vann. They are each about 20 years of age, and looking fellows. They stoutly denied that they were footpads.

FIGHTING IN CUBA.

A Red Cross Hospital Said to Have Been Bombed.

HAVANA, September 13.—Further details of the capture of Victoria de Las Lunas, province of Santiago de Cuba, say that the insurgents, after capturing the town, killed with the machine forty guerrillas for having made a stubborn resistance. It is explained that the Spanish hoisted the red cross flag over the hospital and that the insurgents, mistaking it for a parliamentary flag, sent an officer in that direction. The Spanish claim that the insurgent commander did not respect the flag or the hospital and bombarded the building, killing or wounding fifty men. The latest advice from Spanish sources say the insurgents lost over 200 killed during the fighting about Victoria de Las Lunas and that among them was General Canales and eight soldiers. Four Spanish officers and eight soldiers, who were among those who surrendered to the insurgents, have arrived at Oenta. Saved From the Wreck.

ARE STILL AT LARGE.

Williams and Schlager, the Train Robbers, Becoming Audacious.

STOCKTON, September 13.—George Williams and George Schlager, who attempted to hold up the Los Angeles express near Ripon last Wednesday night, are still at large. Last night two men attempted to hold up Ed Maguire and Stockton. Two men ran up to the buggy at the San Joaquin bridge, and would have halted the couple had not Maguire whipped up the men the officers have no doubt that they were Williams and Schlager. The Bank Caved in.

A Brakenman Killed by Cars.

VINAMIA, Nev., September 13.—Francisco Roman, a brakeman in the part of the Virginia and Truckee railroad, was caught between two cars today and crushed in a horrible manner, dying an hour later.

MOLBECK MURDERED

His Pulmonary Vein Ruptured by Hard Blows.

WEBS STRUCK BY J. DEMONNE

The Slayer in Jail Charged With Manslaughter—Robbery the Motive.

At the inquest on Sunday it developed that Chris Molbeck, the colonist who fell dead in Hunslett & Kochon's saloon in Chinatown Saturday night, was murdered by a Frenchman named J. Demonne, who is employed as "bouncer" at the saloon. Demonne gave him four vicious blows directly over the heart, rupturing the pulmonary artery at the point where it joins the heart. The result was that the rancher died in a few minutes.

The authorities believe that robbery was the object of the murder. It is known that on Saturday Molbeck had about $200, and when his clothing was searched by the coroner only $2.50 in silver was found.

It appears that the farmer, a friend and a stranger had shaken dice to determine who was to pay for the drinks, and the Frenchman, who refused to pay, and the bartender knocked him down, whereupon he handed over the money.

Molbeck, who was much the worse for drink, remarked that he would not submit to such treatment, and the bartender, who seemed ready and even eager, to fight, told him that if he didn't keep still he would have to submit to what his friend received.

Then "Red" Demonne came up, and it looked as if the disturbance had blown over. The "bouncer," however, showed a disposition to make trouble, and according to the statements of bystanders he purposely picked a quarrel with the farmer. Molbeck talked back, and Demonne struck him a blow that sent him to the floor.

As Molbeck arose the Frenchman caught him and shoved him against the wall. There he laid "Red" Demonne's victim by the throat with the left hand, and with the right landed four heavy swinging blows over the heart. Molbeck sank and Demonne dragged him into a back room, where, it is believed, the Frenchman went through the farmer's pockets. The rancher was placed in a chair, and a few moments later he died and his body left to the coroner.

The "bouncer" was tried Sunday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Knappe, and yesterday O. Linström of Easton, a brother-in-law of the deceased, swore to a complaint in Justice Austin's court charging Demonne with manslaughter.

The friends of the Frenchman are active. On Sunday they employed W. D. Tupper to defend him. Three of the most important witnesses have already left town.

The examination will be held before Judge Austin tomorrow at 10 o'clock. Friends of the deceased deny the report that he treated his wife badly. When sober he was an industrious man, but once a while he would come to town and drink to excess.

GONE TO THE JURY.
LEON HILL'S FATE IS NOW IN THE BALANCE.

No Verdict Being Reached Last Night Court Adjourned Till This Morning.

The case of the people against Leon Hill, charged with the murder of Lloyd Dakein-Warthen, was given to the jury last night after a day of argument. Once the foreman told the jury that the verdict would be given in a few minutes, but it seems that the situation took a sudden change in the jury room.

Judge Webb waited till 11 o'clock, but at that hour the foreman stated that an agreement had been reached and that it was not likely that the jury would be ready to report for some time. Court adjourned till this morning at 9.30 o'clock.

The defendant, his parents and other relatives were very hopeful when court adjourned, for they felt satisfied that the jury would be unable to agree.

Yesterday was devoted to brilliant argument. J. H. Hinds for the prosecution, and Frank H. Short and General J. H. Kittrell for the defense participated. There was a fine display of oratory, combined with clever analysis of the testimony. The court room was crowded with spectators all day.

TEN YEARS AT FOLSOM

SEVERE SENTENCE FOR AUGUST BRITTEN.

Judge Risley Tells the Window Breaker to Improve His Tune in Prison.

"The judgment of this court is that you, August Britten, having pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary in the first degree, be imprisoned at Folsom for the term of ten years. For a time, at least, you will not be breaking show-windows of business houses, but if you ever come before this court again for a similar offense you may expect the most severe sentence for it—life imprisonment. So you had better improve your time in prison."

Those were the words spoken by Judge Risley yesterday when he sentenced Britten, the man who has a propensity for breaking show-windows, to the most recent offense was the smashing of the window in the Fresno bakery on night and stealing some pies. A charge of burglary was preferred against him, and he entered a plea of guilty.

Britten has a record for breaking windows, and it was probably because of this that Judge Risley imposed the severe penalty, in the hope, probably, of breaking the man of the habit.

About a year and a half ago Britten threw a brick through the window of Yarnor's store and stole some jewelry. For this he was sent to state's prison for a year.

At that time it was discovered that Britten was also on a similar charge in Stockton, where he broke a window and made a big haul of valuable jewelry. Learning that the officers were aware of this, the prisoner made a confession to Deputy Sheriff Hunslett, and told the officers where the valuable were, having brought them to Fresno and hid them. The result was that Timmons succeeded in recovering all the stolen property, and returned it to the Stockton home. The San Joaquin authorities were content with the recovery of the jewelry and let the punishment of Britten for his crime in Fresno suffice.

Britten does not seem over-burdened with intelligence, but he has a good deal of the breaking of windows down to fine and noisome art. While in court yesterday he had a foolish grin on his face during the proceedings.

CLARK'S BUSY DAY.

THE RECORDER DISPOSES OF SEVERAL CASES.

A Hud Red Man and His Little Howitzer—Harry McCarthy's Joke.

Yesterday was Recorder Clark's busy day. A number of offenders came up for a bout with justice and justice got the best of it all around.

Indian Sam was brought before the Recorder on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. W. O. White being the complainant. Sam, it seems, had a horse at White's feed stable across the street and was waiting for him to come. He started to make himself at home in the harness room, but White objected. The Indian was just full enough of whisky to feel wicked and drew a revolver and fired at White. The bullet struck him in the chest and he died. The Recorder was called upon to try the case, and he found the evidence against Sam so strong that he sentenced him to the state's prison for a year.

There were two other Indians—Alex Grigby and Charley Smith—with Sam, who were also charged with assault with intent to commit murder. They were found guilty and sentenced to the state's prison for a year.

Harry McCarthy, a son of "White-Hot" McCarthy, pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace. Harry, while out of court, had jumped into a milk wagon which the driver had left for a moment and drove around town as if he had in front of him one of his daddy's 420 horses. He will be sentenced to the state's prison for a year.

John McLaughlin, a vagrant, pleaded not guilty, and will be tried on the 15th instant.

"Why should every creature drink but I. Why should I drink and not the why?" hummed James Simpson, as he was called up to answer to a charge of drunkenness. The Recorder wasn't in a political mood, so he sent him up for five days. Others who were accused of the same offense were also sentenced to the state's prison for a year.

Thomas L. Long, aged about 70 years, Robert Crosby and Joseph Holdstock, Long was charged with the murder of a man of his age would better hunt the fountain of youth than try to drink a keg of rum, and Crosby's sentence was postponed.

When it came to Holdstock's turn the Recorder, "Holdstock" H. H. Hinds, with cold-slaw. Five dollars, Holdstock was held in the cell of the same name as the man who was killed.

Holdstock's Examination. The preliminary examination of Joseph W. Redick, charged with a recent murder, will be held at Sanjour today. In the latter part of July he beat an old man named H. H. Boren with the butt of a rifle, almost killing him, in South valley. Redick was arrested there by Sheriff J. H. Hinds. He was held in the County Jail for several days, and then was taken to the State Prison, where he was held in the cell of the same name as the man who was killed.

HARVEST FESTIVAL.

The Salvation Army Revives a Very Ancient Custom.

The Salvation Army corps of Fresno held special meetings at its hall, 1133 K street, beginning Saturday evening, September 13th, and ending Tuesday evening, the 21st instant. The object is to assist the work done in its place of desolation. The matter is well expressed in the following lines:

Some people say it's funny
That we always have money;
But they never wonder what it's for
Nor just how it comes in.
For we need it every day
To help the poor and needy
We meet with on our way.

We have reason to be called.
Sometimes our help is falling
And some are coming from afar;
And some are coming from afar;
And some are coming from afar;
And some are coming from afar;

There are the homeless and the poor,
Need a helping hand to rise,
And some are coming from afar;
And some are coming from afar;
And some are coming from afar;
And some are coming from afar;

Now it happens every day
Some poor mother starts to pray
For the one who has been lost far in sin,
In my prayers she will say,
My poor boy has come home,
And with you will help him
And bring him home again.

The Salvation Army has resurrected an ancient biblical custom of bringing a portion of the produce of the land for the purpose of assisting in the Lord's work. It has given it the name of "The Harvest Festival." The friends of the army, who feel inclined to help the good cause by contributing sheep, hogs, turkeys, chickens and other fowl, flour, groceries of all kinds, both green and dried fruit, merchandise, dry goods, etc., to good account in helping the good work. The social department of the army is helping the needy by supplying the wants of orphans and fallen humanity. All its funds in that part of the work are put into use as soon as they are received, and the help is being given to the needy.

The articles will be received at the hall, 1133 K street, up to Tuesday evening, the 21st instant, when they will be sold and the proceeds used in helping the work in the social department. A full list of Fresno and vicinity will show their appreciation of the good work done by the army by their generosity in assisting the cause.

CHENOT SENTENCED.

Given One Year for Furnishing Liquor to Indians.

Miles Chenot, the Frenchman whom Deputy Sheriff Timmons and Deputy Constable Angel caught in the act of giving liquor to Indians in Chinatown recently, yesterday entered a plea of guilty in Judge Riley's court and was sentenced to one year imprisonment at Folsom. Before judgment was passed the prisoner made a statement of his offense. He has been living in Aubrey valley a number of years, drinking most of his life to prostitution. A few weeks ago a horse was stolen from him and he came down to Fresno to search for it, when he was arrested.

The Frenchman said that the Indians were friends of his and they induced him to get a bottle of liquor and treat them by saying that they would tell him where he could find his horse. The whorl was just taking a "swing" when the officers came. Mike Donohue and Thomas Jones, who were arrested at Redford for furnishing whiskey to an Indian, were arraigned before Judge Riley yesterday and given till tomorrow to plead.

ACROSS THE CHILCOOT.

J. B. DORSEY WRITES FROM LAKE LINDESEY.

His Party Now Sailing Towards Dawson With Three Tons of Provisions.

W. G. Dorsey, the grocer, last evening received the following interesting letter from his brother, J. B. Dorsey, who is on the way to Dawson with the party of which Charles L. Walter is a member. The letter is dated at Lake Lindesey on August 27th:

"I am a stealing time to drop you a few lines. We finished our last pack this place today, making thirty-three days out from San Francisco. The weather in this country is horrible. It has rained, snowed and blown nearly every day just since we left the coast. What makes this country so tough is because one has to carry everything on his back.

"Just think of it! There is a string of men thirty miles long with 100-pound packs on their backs. The trail is made up of broken rocks and cliffs, to which a person has to cling with fingers and toes. Some of the men have broken their legs, and some have broken their ankles, and two have been killed.

"I feel like burling. We are over the great Chilcoot pass. There are now five men in our party and three tons of food. We have packed three tons of food, and are now traveling over 500 miles with 100-pound packs on our backs.

"On the other (souly) side of the mountain there were three or four days of very bad weather. The trail was only their underclothing while packing. We would have packed our goods all the way ourselves, but we wanted to hurry so as to get to the lake in time to leave in our boats on September 1st. We are certain that a person leaving here after that will not get to Dawson. Hiring packing for eleven miles about broke us. The Indians are now charging 40 cents a pound for carrying goods to this place, and it will be $100 to get to Dawson.

"Bats that will hold four persons and their outfit are worth $600 here, and within two or three weeks they will be up to $1000. The Indians are now charging 40 cents a pound for carrying goods to this place, and it will be $100 to get to Dawson.

"The hardest part on the trail are not the mountains. Not on the trail are the people now between Dyea and this place will reach the gold fields this year unless they are covered with money. At Skagway, five miles from Dyea, there are now 4000 or 5000 men, and not one of them has a dollar. They will reach Dawson through the misrepresentation of speculators others are pouring in there by the hundred every day.

"We expect to leave here in our boat on Sunday (August 29th) to cross Lake Lindesey, a distance of seven miles. Then we shall have to take the boat down over the rapids by ropes for a mile and pack our goods around, that will bring us to Lake Bennett. The next 150 miles will be smooth sailing on rivers and lakes, and we shall be able to get to Dawson without any more of the rough of the route."

Have we paints, oils, glass, etc.? Well, we should think so and we are here—Bartlett-Hicks Co.

CITY SCHOOLS OPEN.

AN ATTENDANCE OF 1306 THE FIRST DAY.

The New Course of Manual Training Very Popular Among the Pupils.

The city schools were opened yesterday for the term, and the attendance was excellent. As usual quite a number of pupils who are at present working, principally in the packing houses, will come in later. The total number in attendance yesterday was 1306, divided as follows: In the high school, 150; 7th and 8th grades, 230; Central building, 235; K street, 245; O street, 140; Park avenue, 250. Professor Dailey, the new superintendent, stated that he was very well satisfied with the showing made the first day. He was especially favorably impressed with the force of teachers, and highly pleased with the prospects of excellent work this term.

The course of manual training just introduced is very popular with the students, and no less than 140 of them made application yesterday to join the classes. There will be about 200 who will take the course, and this is about all that can be accommodated in the new department with the present facilities.

None of the school rooms are overcrowded. The seventh and eighth grades, which occupy the first floor of the high school building, are well filled, and fifty new seats must be put in at once.

Yesterday was a heavy business day for the bookstores, and many parents complained because of what was supposed to be a needless expense. They are of the opinion that the changes of books are unnecessary.
